Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1953

wish to dedicate

the Atomic Edition of The Gold "U"

to our parents

who have given so unselfishly

of their time,

of patience,

and of funds

to help make this year

the most important

of our entire school career.

Foreword

In this, the Atomic edition of The Gold "U",

we, of the class of 1953,

have tried to show as accurately as possible,

the work and activities of pupils of the Cass Township schools during the year.

For all the help which we have received in the writing, and editing of this record of our school,

we are most grateful.

Union High School

To live in this land of the brave and the free,
To go to this school that was built for you and me.
Oh!what privileges have been given to the class of '53.
Let us ne'er forsake them or never let them die,
But forever be true to dear old Union High.

Union High School was dedicated in 1921; and since that year, approximately 1400 graduates have passed through her doors and started the long climb to success.All of these students hold dear the memories of their school life.

Looking back over the years, we find that many changes have taken place-, many additions have been made and parts have been remodeled to improve the school and give each pupil the best advantage. Among the noted changes are the new gymnasium, and the new shop building. The remodeling of the annex gave space for the cafeteria where students may buy a warm, well- balanced lunch.The addition and improvement of the football field with lights, bleachers, and house for concessions has kept Union abreast of the times in sports.

Other changes and improvements have been made throughout the years, all of which have gone to make Union our Alma Mater, the school we love.

UHS

Class

GOVERNMENT
To get an understanding of government in a democracy, all seniors are required to study government. In addition to their work in the classroom, the students had practical experience in citizenship by conducting the Student Council election. Also, the class visited the state legislature in Indianapolis in February, and the county officers in the spring. Mr. Near taught government.

COMMERCE
One of the prominent parts of Union is the commerce department.Subjects offered are shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, and office practice.Awards are given to outstanding students. Besides class recitation, students visit offices, view business educational films,and attend demonstrations of office machines. Students may also take part in the U.B.E.A. and N.O.M.A. tests.Miss Wright instructed it.

MATHEMATICS
Mathematics, a difficult but very essential subject,has been used to solve many of the important world problems. In our school this year the mathematical subjects taught were: algebra and geometry by Mr. Stegemoller; and arithmetic by Mrs. Hawtin and Mr. Todd.

HOME EC
Home Economics, offered to all Union to girls, is organized to care for those, interested in becoming good home makers . Besides learning how to sew and cook, the girls study child care,nursing procedure, home planning,personal grooming, leisure time, and adjustments to people. Various courses are offered in junior high and throughout senior high.Mrs. Harmon is instructor.

SHOP
In this mechanical age every one is dependent upon machinery in some way. Since machinery came into use in our factories and plants, there has been a growing need for men to understand and operate it. Because some work is quite complicated, the operator needs to acquire a training in some machine shop. Union, in the shop course, has tried to offer such training. Mr. Johnson was the instructor of shop.

BIOLOGY
One of the more difficult subjects that is offered to the Freshman students is biology. This is the study of living organism. One-half of the year is given to the study of plants and one-half to the study of animals. One year of science, which is usually biology, is required in order to graduate. Mrs. Coyner, who has given special study to science, is the very inspiring teacher of this subject.

JOURNALISM
Journalism is the source of our means of producing the weekly school newspaper . The motto of this subject is "Speed and Accuracy". The students of Journalism, live up to this motto zestfully.Journal--ism is very important to the whole univ-erse for without printing there would be little means of expressing our thoughts and the thoughts of others. This subject was taught by Mrs. Coyner.

SPANISH
There were twenty students in second year Spanish. In addition to class study, the students have a club,El Club Espanol.They have published two editions of a paper, Los Pensamientos Flojos. Last year they had a Mexican party with dinner,a hayride and folk dancing.The members pay dues to make the party an annual affair.Officers: Pres.,John Fuzesi;V-Pres., Wanda Michael; Sec'y-Treas.,Katie Marsh;Sponsor,Mr.Near.

CHEMISTRY
Could it be that someday they may drop chemistry entirely at Union? Chemistry has been declining rapidly each year.The big reason is thought to be that Union High School is offering new subjects each year. This subject should not be slighted as it is very vital and impor-tant.

LITERATURE
Literature is a subject which takes you to all parts of the earth,to learn about the people who lived there and the ways in which they lived.In a way literature has a touch of history revealed in very interesting poems and stories. Some de-pict historical events and other phases of life.Literature classes were conduct-ed by Mrs. Coyner,Mrs.Headley,Miss Shep-herd, Miss Pirtle and Mrs. Reid.

LATIN
Being a subject of foreign language puts Latin in a different and most interest-ing field of study.It is required of all who assume professional work of nurses, doctors,and pharmacist. This subject was taught by Mrs. Headley.

HEALTH and SAFETY
Health and Safety is a subject required of all students before they can graduate It deals with the health of individuals and the ways in which they can prevent harm to themselves and their surround-ings. This subject which is so vital to all students for means of better and safer living is taught by Mr. Mason and Mr. Douglas.

Members of the advisory board are elected for a period of four years. They meet with the township trustee and advise him in his many services. They have five of the regular meetings each year which are called by the trustee for the purpose of discussing any township problem. Special call meetings may be called at any time These men deserve much credit for the work they have done.Members of the board are: Nolan Reeves, Rollie Eslinger, and Merle Headley.

The Student Council was organized this year for the first time. Mrs. Headley, Mr. Near, and Mr. Todd were the sponsors of this group. Their largest project for this year was the clean-up campaign, and

Administration

To most of the students who attend Union,"Shorty" is considered as an old friend. In the many activities that have been undertaken, he could be depended upon to back us. He has worked hard and played an important part in the progress of Union. We are very fortunate to have had Mr. Usrey as our township trustee,and we wish to express our thanks for the many things he has done to make Union a better school.

everybody willingly helped to make the campaign a success.The officers for this year were as follows: President, Charles Rooksberry; Vice-Pres., Joe Hall; Sec., Winkie Goodman,Treasurer,Norman Stinson.

The Office Staff, provides educational enterprizes for secretarial work.These girls type,file,take dictation, carry notices,write permits, and many other things that help to educate them for secretarial work.The members of this staff are as follows:Seated at table, L to R,Mr. Todd,Wanda Michael, Marilyn Pope,Dorothy Robertson;Seated at typewriters, L to R,Carolyn Chambers,Shirley Dunder;At duplicator,Wyvonna Booker;In background,L to R,Betty McCammon Mary Boone, Emmadean Hampton, Rosemary Michael,Kathleen Maxey,Shirley Jewell.

Groups

The person who deserves much of the credit for the work and worry connected with the operation of Union is the principal, Mr. Todd. He is a graduate of Indiana Central College and I. U., with an A.B. and M. S. degree. He has been with Union two years and during this time has given his services unfailingly. To him goes our appreciation for a very successful year.

Graduates '53

We started out at the age of six.
With different friends we learned to mix.
On through the grades we went
With many a scratch and dent.
Then we began our high school days
And each merrily went his pleasant way
Then, graduation was here
Most were happy, but some shed a tear.
But never fear,
We'll go on through life
Through all the worldly strife;
Always trying to keep the right,
So our brightest day,
Will never see the darkest night.

First Steps

Senior Class History

In the Fall of 1949, we, the members of the class of '53, began a four year experiment--high school test--the most difficult task of our lives. As Freshmen, we were somewhat lost and frightened, but many of the fifty-five students who answered roll call were determined to graduate. During our first years, many of us took on several extra-curricular activities to divert the regular routine of our work. Some became disinterested and stopped by the roadside. Others began dreaming of the day when we would fill the ranks of Seniors.

As Juniors, only thirty-eight continued the experiment. Under the sponsorship of Miss Shepherd and Mrs. Harrison we elected officers for the year President, Norman Hale; Vice-President, Mary Boone; Recording Secretary, Tom Risinger; Corresponding Secretary, Norma Pope; and Treasurer, Emmadean Hampton. This year we attempted several of the sub-experiments. One of these was the presentation of Don't Ever Grow Up, which was acclaimed a success by everyone. The Reception, we gave in honor of the departing seniors, was also a success. We were proud and we eagerly awaited our last year at Union.

Finally, our senior days arrived! By now our number had dwindled to thirty-five. At times we felt a little sad, realizing that our experiment would soon be completed. Looking back over the previous years, we saw some of our mistakes as well as accomplishments. This year, with Mrs. Coyner, Miss Wright, and Mr. Todd as sponsors, we elected Eleanor Lippeatt to lead the group. Other officers are: Vice-President, Charles Rooksberry; Recording Secretary, Marlene Olson; Corresponding Secretary, Wyvonna Booker; and Treasurer, Shirley Carlisle. In our efforts to make money for our yearbook and trip to Washington, D. C. and New York, we were kept quite busy. Again we tried the field of dramatics, when we presented the play, Annie Laurie. This costume play, acclaimed a success, will linger in the minds of many people.

Looking back over the experiment, we wish to say that we have had some wonderful times, in spite of the hard work we encountered in our stay here; and we wish the best of luck to those we are leaving behind.

Class Prophecy

On August 29, 1964, I stood in the hallway of the Central School building and waited for the bell to officially announce the opening of the new term. For the past few years I had been teaching an elementary grade in a Terre Haute school; but having decided to return to my home town, I especially looked forward to this year for two reasons. One, I contemplated adventure with the primary department in the new building that had been built where "Old Central" had stood; and second, in the words of Goldsmith, I was just glad to return at home at last.

Waiting here in the hall, I watched the children as they arrived and a little red haired boy captured my attention. Why did he seem to stand out so much in my mind? Slowly, my thoughts went back--memories of my own school days possessed my thoughts. One individual of those past school days began to loom up out of the past--another red haired boy--Bill Ashburn. Why did this little boy seem to remind me so much of Bill? A driving curiosity to know the boy's name possessed me, but when the bell rang I entered my room to perform my first duty--enrollment. This task only added to my curiosity for there in the first row sat that same red haired boy.

Aggravated at having my attention to duty so diverted, I resolutely began to enter the information in my register. Slyly each little newcomer stood and told me his name or handed me mother's note with the necessary information. All the time the vision of the little boy hovered in my mind like a dancing little nymph. Then up he jumped, "My name is Eddie Ashburn," he stated as if he dared me to entertain the least shadow of a doubt.

Simultaneously with Eddie's statement there was a rapping at the door. I asked the children to sit quietly while I answered the door, but was hardly prepared to have my already confused mind further reverted to memories of the past. But back to my own school days raced my attention for there in the doorway stood none other than Emmadean Hampton, my classmate of high school days. She covered my surprise with that ready smile of hers as she handed me a package and explained that it was the books that Eddie had forgotten. "You see he is just like his daddy," laughed Emmadean. "Billy so often forgot to take things with him."

Perhaps someone had told me that Billy and Emmadean were married soon after our graduation; but if so I had forgotten. Eager and big hearted as she had been in school days, Emmadean generously invited me to have dinner at her house that evening. "Then we will have a chance to re-live the past and brief the bits of choice gossip" laughed Emmadean.

I needed no one to urge me to accept this invitation and a chance to reinstate myself with old friends, so I promised to accompany Eddie home the minute the closing bell sounded.

I returned to my class and the day passed as all days must. I had my enrollment completed and had become acquainted with most of my pupils when the bell finally sounded the close of the day. I accompanied Eddie home and when we arrived Emmadean was preparing dinner. She gave me an apron and asked me to arrange the salad while she put the rolls in the oven.

Working there together and discussing the events of the day it was only natural that we would start dreaming of days past; days when several from our class would gather at one home for fun, refreshments, and sometimes work.

"You know, Dean, you don't seem one bit different. Do you remember the night we made candied apples at Barbara's? I asked as I placed the salad on the plates.

"Gee, yes, I made some for Eddie and his friends just the other day", laughed Dean as she placed the pan of rolls in the oven. "I wonder where all of our class mates are. Do you ever hear from very many of them", she inquired.

"Well, I still hear from Shirley Dunder. You knew that she is secretary to Phil Griffith, the president of Pyramid Paper Company in Chicago," I answered. Oh, yes, in her last letter she told about Kathleen Maxey and Carolyn Chambers who had just recently taken positions for office work in the same building. They should have some good times now that they are together again."

"I had a letter from Norma not too long ago," said Dean. "I suppose you knew that she and Tom Risinger had married. They are in California where Tom is directing an orchestra," explained Emmadean as she went to the door to call Billy and Eddie to dinner.

Father and son lost no time getting into the house, and after the preliminary greetings, as we took our places at the table to enjoy the dinner Dean and I were still in the reminiscent mood.

"There are several of our class mates still around here, explained Dean. "I often hear from Barbara Willis. You know she is a dietician at Riley Hospital. In her last letter she told about Shirley Neilson's wedding and Shirley's new home in Michigan."

"Sure, and Jim was telling me today that Charles Rooksberry, Vernon Smith, and Joe Land had reenlisted for another term in the Navy. They'll be stationed at Great Lakes this time. They think they will make a career of the Navy now," offered Bill as he helped himself to a second helping of the fried chicken.

"Say, mommie, tonight's paper has a picture of Eleanor Lippeatt. Didn't you say she was your classmate?"
"Yes, dear, I saw the picture," answered Dean.
"Hasn't Eleanor been successful in her political work," said Emmadean.
"Yes,"I agreed"I admire Eleanor for her progress Do you remember how our government teacher, Mr. Near, always said that some day we would have a woman for Vice-President."
"In the Indianapolis News, the editor, Norman Sheffler, has done a good job of publishing her campaign," Bill reminded us.
"Say, Bill, after dinner let's drive over to Norman Hale's farm for a visit. He always enjoys talking about our high school days," suggested Emmadean.
We all agreed that talking with Norman would be fun so as soon as we had finished dinner and cleared away the dishes,Bill brought the car and we were off for a visit.
"Mommie" asked Eddie,"let's go past the library so I can have a book to read."
"I think that would be fine agreed Eddie's mother."Then we can show off our new library.You remember Shirley Garrard and Betty McCammon? They are the librarians."
Before we arrived at the library we passed a very attractive and exclusive dress shop. Emmadean explained that it was owned by our former classmates, Shirley Carlisle and Shirley O'Haver
Near the edge of the town Bill pulled into a Marathon station for gas and I was surprised to learn that Bob Goodman was the chief mechanic. As we drove farther into the country I was sure we were arriving at Norman's home, for just ahead was a beautiful, well kept farm. I soon learned of my mistake for Bill informed me that this was the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ransford. He explained that Jim and Alma Brewer had married soon after graduation and had been very successful on their farm.
At last we reached Norman's farm. He was elated to see us, said he had just been in town for dinner.
"Being a bachelor isn't always so nice," teased Bill.
"Oh, I'm not so sure" Norman defended himself. "You know that new restaurant operated by Mr.and Mrs. John Cliver has wonderful home cooked food. You remember his wife--she was Sharon Reid,"Norman explained.
"Yes," agreed Emmadean "and their other restaurant in Sullivan, the one operated by Wyvonna Booker and Evelyn Pigg, is a splendid place to eat."
"While I was in the restaurant tonight, Sharon showed me a news article that told of Audrey Pilk and Marian Lovelace enlisting in the Waves" related Norman as he showed us into his spacious bachelor quarters."We are just in time to watch the T.V. show over URAB" continued Norman checking his watch."Did you know that Dorcas Borders and Ruth Patton are now with the Grand Ole Opera They will be on now" he continued as he tuned in his T.V. set.
"What a beautiful T.V. lamp," I explained.
"Yes, isn't that a beauty," agreed Norman. "You remember Chet Wilson? Well, he and his wife, Mary Boone,gave me that as a gift when I visited them on their ranch in Texas last summer.
After our visit with Norman, Bill took me home. I made a hurried preparation of my work for the next day's teaching;then, just before drifting off to sleep I gave one last thought to a most pleasant evening. I also made a vow to keep in closer touch with my class mates and what they were doing.

Books on the Move

"Literature Ever-Moving," this saying held true when the library was moved up stairs and established its new home in the front part of the assembly It was changed in order to make more class rooms since the fifth and sixth grades have been brought out to the Union High School.
The ceiling has been redecorated, the reading tables have been refinished, new shelves have been built, and many new books occupy these shelves.
The students are very proud of these improvements and hope that by another year the glass partition can be added thus dividing the study hall from the library.

Junior Class

Our class,with its 45 members, has lost only seven and gained two since we were freshmen. Our leaders in the first three years of high school were Pat Sullivan,John Fuzesi, and Dwane Kinnett.We enjoyed many good times,such as our freshman party and the trip to Shakamak,the sophomore all-day picnic, and our successful magazine campaign which began our junior year.Dwane Kinnett was our star salesman of magazines.We have had a few bake sales, which have proved a good source of income,and we sponsored a home talent show. We also sponsored a hat and coat check booth at every home basketball game. As we entered into the second semester of school, we anticipated the annual junior class play and the reception for the seniors.We want to thank our sponsors,Miss Shepherd and Mrs. Harmon,for their guidance through our happy and successful junior year. We look forward to our final year at Union.

Music

Some where a child in the dawning is singing,
Free as a bird when it welcomes the day,
Rising and falling on goes the song,
Ringing with joy and with hope that is strong,
We too need music to lift us and cheer us.
Come then and sing,
Come then and sing,
Come then and sing
All our cares away.

Band

Our band, though small, but mighty, has improved sing last year. Although we did lose two capable seniors, still we have gained twelve new members this year The band now totaling forty-five. To show the progress of the band, since last year, we have given several special programs at the basketball games. These programs have been well received. Several of the band members plan to participate in the Sullivan County Festival March 13.

Chorus

Union High, well known for music, has three choral groups this year. Mixed chorus, consisting of seventy boys and girls, is a group that is very good. The mixed chorus sang two special songs at the district festival at Sullivan. The chorus sent eighteen to the State Choral Sing at Indianapolis.

The boy's chorus, with twenty-five members, has not been in rehearsal too long and so have not participated in any programs.

Girl's chorus with sixty-three voices this year is the largest for quite awhile. The girls worked very hard and gave up their noon hour once a week to practice.

Strike Up The Band

Kay McGhee, a freshman, served one year as majorette and hopes for three more successful years.

Shirley Neilson, a senior, served four years as majorette, two years as drum majorette, and twice she won a second place in district twirling contest.

Sue Duncan, served two years as sophomore, twirling majorette, won second place district contest, and in hopes for two more successful years.

Football

Football has always been one of Union's favorite sports.The '53 team was light and fast and Coach Johnson's guidance,they showed improvements as to the previous year.
Although they won only one scheduled game, they showed fighting spirit and great courage against all of their opponents. The one defect of the team was the factor of a light line. Since they lost only eight lettermen this year, they are looking forward to having an experienced team to begin next year's season with a bang.

Basketball

The Union High School basketball team of 1952-53 headed by Coach "Russ" Mason has had some hard luck but they fought hard all year. They had a season record of six wins and twelve defeats in scheduled play.The Bulldogs advanced to the finals in the Wabash Valley Prelims before they bowed in defeat to their old rival, the Golden Arrows from Sullivan. John Cliver, leading the Bulldogs scoring,set many new records this season.He established a new all time W.I.C. record in total number of points scored in W.I.C.games, in most free throws in one game,in highest average for W.I.C. games. He broke the record of the great All State,Clyde Lovellette,from Garfield of Terre Haute. John is rated as one of the best point men in the valley.He also set a new record at Union High that will probably stand for many years. Many times he scored between thirty and forty points in games. The Bulldogs have four seniors on the squad: John Cliver, Norman Hale, Bill Ashburn, and Charles Rooksberry. With eight returning lettermen, Coach "Russ" Mason is looking forward to better seasons in the future.

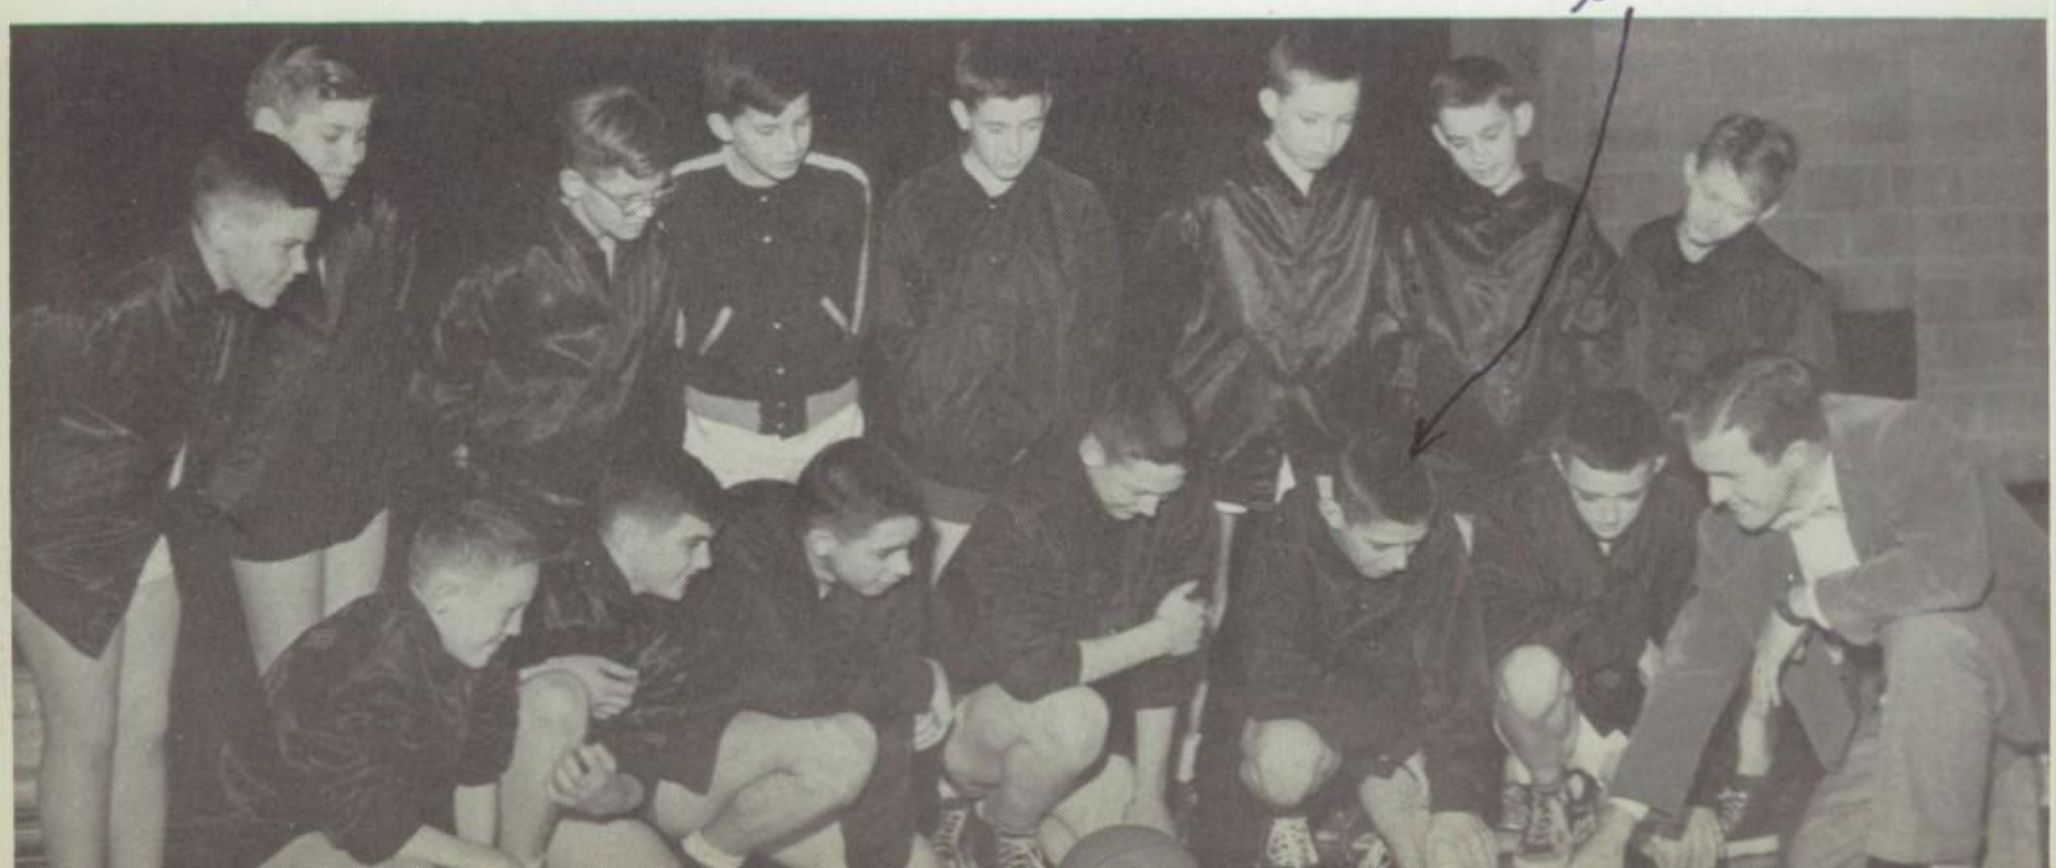
B-Team

Union B-Team has always been a ready source for Varsity material. Under the director, C oach Mason. The B-Team had a very successful season for 53. The team won 9 while their opponents claimed only 8. They had one of the best seasons in recent years. They claimed many of their victories from the stronger teams on the schedule. Most of the boys were freshmen and sophmore this year. It looks as though Union's future is a promising one.

Getting in Shape for High School



The Jr. High team, coached by Mr. Johnson, had a very good basketball season.

The seventh grade had a small but mighty team. Although the seventh grade was beginning their basketball career they ended with a better average of victories than the eighth grade.

The eighth grade had a rather large team for Jr. High. Even though they didn't have as good a winning average as the seventh grade, they had a good season. Most of the members of this team will be looking forward to making the B-Team next year.

The seventh and eighth grades combined went to the county tourney; and, by playing together, they brought back the championship trophy.

Time out for tea

G. A. A.

The G.A.A. was organized in 1928 with Mrs. Coyner as their sponsor. They had only 13 members then but the club has grown just as everything else has grown at Union. They now have as their sponsor Miss Shepherd. Some of the sports during the past year have been volleyball, badmitton, deck tennis, and the basketball tournaments have been a favorite.Besides practicing for class tournaments, the girls took part in working at the concession stands and taught Physical Ed. classes in the absence of the teacher.The officers were elected at the end of last year and are: President,Emmadean Hampton, Vice-Pres., Shirley Neilson, Secretary, Norma Pope, and Treasurer, Marlene Olson. At the end of the year,sweaters, letters, stripes, and plaques are awarded by the sponsor.

Y-Teen

The Y-Teen members of Union in trying to live up to their purpose "To Find and Give the Best" have been very active this year. The major project of the year was the purchasing of an 1883 Rogers silver tea service which is to be used for their annual Mother-Daughter Tea. This tea is always one of the highlights of the year.
Other activities of the year were: initiation of new members, Valentine dance with Hi-Y, entering a float in homecoming parade, and attending District Conferences.
The Y-Teen girls, together with Hi-Y boys, attended services at different churches. At Easter time they with the Hi-Y sponsored the Easter program. Rev. Jack Anderson of the Sullivan First Christian Church was the speaker.

The 33 members of the Union Hi-Y Club have been active during the year in work based on the Motto: "Clean sports, Clean speech, Clean living, and Clean scholarship." Shortly after the installation of officers in the fall, it was decided that the major project for the year would be the sponsoring of the buying of a scoreboard. It was available for the first home game and most of the money was raised before the Christmas vacation.

Other activities of the club have been: initiation of new members, fall and spring dances, entering a float in the homecoming parade, attending the District and Regional Conferences, operating the movie projector, and attending local churches with the Y-Teen Club.

Beta Club

The Beta Club is a National Honorary Society. Membership in the Beta organization is based upon the scholarship, achievement, character and leadership. Our motto is "Let us lead by serving others."

We received a large coffee urn, which we gave to the school, for selling vanilla. We also contributed to the Hi-Y for the scoreboard. Besides our regular meetings we had our initiation ceremonies.

We will lose ten members by graduation. These seniors received gold seals on their diplomas for having been members of the Beta Club.

Officers for the year were:
President- Emmadean Hampton
Vice- President - Joe Hall
Secretary - - Marlene Olson
Treasurer - Larry McClellan
Sponsor - -Mrs. Vera Headly

We hope that the progress made by our group will make Union a better school to attend.

The night of October 17, was the big night. Union High's night of the year. After a day of feverish decorating, the floats and cars were finished by 5:30, the starting time for the parade. This procession was one of the largest that Union has ever staged.

The election of the queen and attendents was held according to a primary election. The freshmen attendents were Judy Smith and Judy McGhee, the sophomore attendents were Barbara Walters and Gertrude Walters. The junior attendents were Alede Deckard and Marilyn Houston. The senior attendents were Shirley Neilson and Marlene Olson. The queen of the student body was Eleanor Lippeatt.

Come On Let's Get It Straight

Happy Birthday Kids

Jeanie and Don

Wedding Bells

"Maxwelton braes are bonnie
Where early fa's the dew
And it's here that Annie Laurie
Gie'd me her promise true."

This ballad is the basis of a beautiful romance. It was written about the true love of William Douglas for Annie Laurie Annie's father, Sir Laurie, bitterly objected to the romance because the Douglas Clan and the Laurie Clan have fueded for generations. He wants Annie to marry Lord Ferguson, a very dear friend of his. Lady Scott, a former sweethart, tries to persuade Sir Laurie to let Annie follow her heart, but his hatred is too great. Dramatic pathos is added when Sir Douglas is supposedly killed in the Crimean War. Love, peace, and harmony are restored when Douglas unexpectedly returns and Sir Laurie concents to their wedding. Comedy is added by Meg, Ramsey, and Sandy who are loyal servants, but have their own opinions about the happenings.

This beautiful dramatic production was presented by members of the Senior Class and proclaimed one of the best and most unusual dramatic presentations ever to be given at Union.

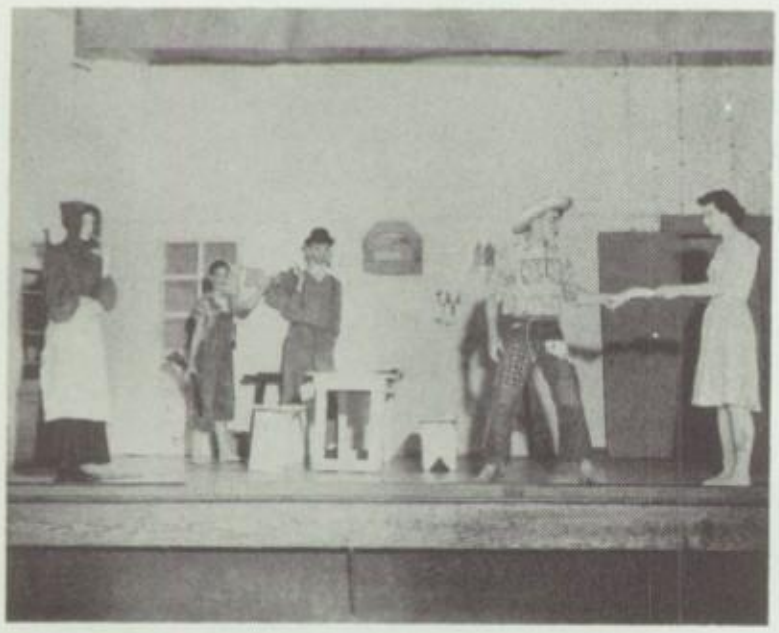
Junior Play

Getting ready for the big night!

Golly! What make-up does to a fellow.

Gee! Don't we look pretty?

Bob Goodman and Mary Garrad providing entertainment between acts.



After four weeks of hard work, the Junior Class presented a two night and one matinee run of their annual play, "Robert St Clair's" three act comedy, "Comin' Round the Mountain". The entire action of the play took place in the dilapidated farm house located in the remote section of the Smokey Mountains.

Many hilarious and sometimes almost ridiculous situations arose as Maw and Paw Skitters put into action their ideas about getting their two daughters married. Each member of the cast did a good job of portraying his part but Marilyn Pope and John Fuzesi, as Maw and Paw, along with their two sons, Curly(Fred Boyd) and Zeke (Don Gambill) were favorites with the audience.
